

WGET Serves Presidential News To U.S.

The advantages of WGET's affiliation with the Mutual radio network, largest in the world, were emphasized over the weekend when the first broadcasts from Gettysburg over the network of more than 450 stations were made from WGET.

When President Eisenhower drove to Camp David, his Catocin Mountain retreat near Thurmont, Md., last Friday Mutual and WGET joined in providing radio coverage for the entire country.

The news staffs of WGET and the Gettysburg Times worked in conjunction in preparing copy for the broadcasts. The first was shortly after noon Saturday when P. H. Cunningham, manager of WGET, broadcast the first report to Mutual headquarters in Washington. Shortly thereafter the first broadcast was served through the more than 450 stations. Other newscasts followed on Saturday and Sunday. Each was repeated several times during the next two or three hours.

Mutual officials expressed their appreciation of WGET's service, the first of a nationwide significance since the affiliation was put into effect a week ago.

Each broadcast identified the source as "WGET at historic Gettysburg." All such broadcasts will be similarly identified bringing more fame and attention to Gettysburg.

WGET listeners have expressed their approval of the Mutual affiliation and have commented on the expanded service which has added much to the public service of the "Voice of Adams County."

3 INJURED IN NEW OXFORD AUTO CRASH

Three persons were injured when two cars collided on Hanover St. in New Oxford Saturday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock.

New Oxford police said Miss Jane Spangler, 18, of New Oxford; her father, Clyde Spangler, 44, New Oxford, and William L. Noel, 34, McSherrystown, were injured in the crash.

Miss Spangler, driver of the one car, was admitted as a patient at the Warner Hospital here suffering from lacerations of the forehead and a cerebral concussion. Her father was treated at the hospital for minor cuts of the left upper eyelid, contusions and abrasions of both knees and had a possible cerebral concussion.

Miss Spangler and her father, according to New Oxford police, were driving north on Hanover St. about a block from their home when Noel, driving south, fell asleep and his car swerved across the road into the Spangler auto.

The Spangler auto was demolished. Damage was estimated by police at $100 to the Noel vehicle.

Police said Noel was removed to the Hanover Hospital, then went to a McSherrystown physician for treatment for bruises of the chest and body.

Investigation of the crash is continuing, police said.

Emmitsburg Pair Put In Jail Here

Walter J. Wagaman, 19, and Daniel Shorb, 30, both of Emmitsburg, were placed in the Adams County jail by borough police Saturday night after interrogation at the engine house here.

Wagaman was charged with driving without an operator's license and without a proper registration plate on the vehicle he was driving. Shorb was charged with permitting Wagaman to drive under the circumstances. Both charges were placed before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

The two men were held by borough police after they had gone to investigate a "stolen car" report, although no charges of having a stolen car were brought after the men told police they had purchased the vehicle in Maryland. The local police said however that Wagaman did not have an operator's license with him and that the registration tags on the car were not issued for that vehicle.

Miss Mary Gardner, 21, York Springs R. 2, Sunday entered a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Gettysburg R. D., to a charge of hit and run driving and posted $500 bail to appear for court.

After the accident, which caused $45 damage to the two cars, the Gardner car left the scene, police allege.

The youth was brought into Swope's Atlantic Station, Carlisle St., about 12:40 o'clock Saturday morning. Men who had found him lying near the intersection of Carlisle and Water Sts. and borough police who took him to the hospital heard the semi-conscious youth mumbling about "10 or 11 men" as he tried to respond to questions. They gathered from his replies that a number of men had attacked him on Carlisle St.

Ban On Nuclear Tests Is Hinged On Safety Measure

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP) — New Soviet proposals for a partial ban on nuclear weapon tests came under close American and British study today. The two Western powers sought enlightenment on safety provisions which the Soviets maintain are contained in their plan.

The Soviet government proposed Saturday that the three powers enter into a treaty banning all atomic and hydrogen weapon tests except small underground blasts. This would be accompanied by a moratorium on the excluded underground tests while a joint scientific study of this difficult problem was undertaken.

Washington and London want to know exactly what the Soviet government has in mind to guard against a violation of the moratorium.

The partial ban was first proposed by President Eisenhower Feb. 11. Western sources said that if the Soviet actually favor safety provisions acceptable to the U.S. and British governments, the 17-month-old nuclear test ban conference may be on the threshold of achieving a treaty.

After introducing the Soviet proposal, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told the Western delegates his government would allow some on-site inspections to guard against the small underground explosions.

The Soviets said their plan also included acceptance of a Western proposal for joint East-West scientific studies of ways to detect the small underground blasts, which the West says give seismic readings that cannot be distinguished from those given by the numerous small earthquakes the earth experiences constantly.

PAIR RELEASED IN BURGLARY

Two Upper Adams youths, arrested by state police Thursday on warrants out of Chester County, were released Saturday by Chester authorities after questioning on a burglary there.

The two, Larry W. Smith, 18, of Gardner, and Joseph Louis Cieski Jr., 19, of Aspers, were released after their answers to Chester County authorities showed that they knew nothing of a burglary that took place in a restaurant in Frazerville, East Whitman Twp., Chester Co.

Chester authorities had sent the warrants here in order to question the two men because they had stayed overnight at a cabin of a motel connected with the burglary. The two left for Adams County on the morning the burglary was discovered. They were picked up Thursday and placed in the Adams County jail until taken into custody by Chester County authorities Friday morning. They were able to prove they knew nothing of the burglary and then were released, Larry Smith said Saturday afternoon on their return here.

Spring Comes But Winter Chill Stays

Old Man Winter turned in a final threatening snow flurry here Sunday morning before bowing off the scene in favor of spring by mid-morning and later in the day the new season pushed temperatures up to 42 degrees. Overnight, however, they slid down to 27 in Gettysburg.

Today there was still too much winter snow on hand for a bright sun to push the mercury very high in the face of a stiff, chilly breeze from the west.

December, February and March saw a total of 19 inches of snow fall here. November and January received only flurries.

Just because spring has arrived by the calendar does not mean that no more snow can fall. One of the heaviest snowfalls on record here occurred March 29, 1942, Pahr Sunday, when 24 inches were measured in Gettysburg.

CITE WOMAN'S LEAGUE FOR PHILANTHROPY

The Woman's League of Gettysburg College has been recognized by a "Who's Who in America" citation for special educational philanthropy. The citation will appear in the 31st biennial edition of "Who's Who" to be published this month.

The Gettysburg Woman's League was chosen for the honor "in recognition of its substantial gifts to education in America by reason of gifts to Gettysburg College," according to Jackson Martindell, publisher of "Who's Who."

Encourage Philanthropy

The purpose of the citations is to encourage educational philanthropy as well as to honor the individual donor, Martindell said.

The citation follows: "Eighty-five thousand dollars raised by the Woman's League of Gettysburg College for completion of a modern music building is the most recent effort in a series of projects by this group reaching back over a period of half a century and totaling over a third of a million dollars. Few colleges can boast similar support by such an auxiliary body. The league is a fellowship of nearly 6,000 who aid the college spiritually, morally and financially. It was established in 1908 under the leadership of a Gettysburg Lutheran pastor's widow and now counts 20 subleagues in Pennsylvania and nearby states. Among the projects it has accepted responsibility for completing in the past are: A Student Christian Association building, establishment of an endowment fund for Student Christian Association work, college dormitories for women, an organ for the school chapel and a music building with all modern facilities. Just as Gettysburg has been termed the 'mother of Lutheran Colleges,' so might the Woman's League be termed the 'mother of Gettysburg College.'"

After leaving the Nevin Riley home, they headed south toward the Lincoln Highway, planning to go to their home in Littlestown. As their car came upon the railroad track atop a rise in the road, a five-unit diesel engine struck the car, ripping off its entire left side and hurling it 40 feet.

Train Going West

State Policemen Cpl. James Treas and Elmer Soprano said the locomotive, to which was attached only a caboose, was traveling west at the time of the crash. They identified the engineer as Walter H. Minnick, 57, Hagerstown.

Riley was hurled from the car and was found by the Gettysburg Fire Department ambulance crew about 25 feet from the car.

The auto had fallen over on its left side and Mrs. Riley, the former Mae Berkeheiser, was trapped in the sedan. Rescue and ambulance crews used crowbars to pry open the door in order to release the woman.

To Hold Inquest

The ambulance crew said both Mr. and Mrs. Riley showed signs of life when they were placed in the ambulance, but death apparently occurred en route to the Warner Hospital.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said Mr. Riley, aged 65, suffered a crushed chest and a compound fracture of the skull. Mrs. Riley, aged 60, died of a fractured skull and broken neck. Dr. Crist said, "There will be an inquest," but no date has been set.

SPRING GETS SLOW START; SOUTH CHILLY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring is off to a slow start in most of the eastern half of the nation.

Although skies were clear in most areas, it was chilly as far south as northern sections of Florida on the first full day of the new season, which started officially at 9:43 a. m. Eastern Standard Time Sunday.

With a heavy snow covering over wide areas in the Midwest, temperatures were below freezing in most of the north central region and edged near zero in some areas. The coldest air was centered around the upper Mississippi Valley, with a low of 6 above in Alexandria, Minn.

The mercury dipped to 36 above in Tallahassee, Fla., and it was freezing in Atlanta and Louisville and many other Southern cities. Miami's early morning low was in the 50s. Light snow fell in Norfolk, Va.

Snow flurries fell in the cold air from central Illinois southeastward to the Appalachians, northward into New York and westward into lower Michigan.

Temperatures were near or above seasonal levels in most of the western areas, with the warmest easter in interior sections of California and the desert regions of Arizona. Readings were in the 60s and 70s after Sunday's high of 96 in Yuma, Ariz., and a record springtime mark of 89 in Fresno, Calif.

ASPERS YOUTH

When Quesberry recovered sufficiently to give a clearer story Saturday afternoon he told police that "10 or 11 men" were throwing snowballs near the Sigma Chi house on Carlisle St. and that a snowball had struck him. He remonstrated and a fight with one of the men followed. After the fight Quesberry walked south on Carlisle St. and then had fallen to the sidewalk at Water St., he told police.

Meantime, investigation revealed that John Connolly, a 19-year-old Gettysburg College student, said he had struck Quesberry, but had no knowledge that the Aspers youth was injured by the blow. The Sigma Chi member said he had gone out into the street and found that there was snowballing going on. At that moment, he told police, Quesberry came up and struck him and he struck back. He said after the altercation Quesberry left, and the student returned to the fraternity house.

Saturday afternoon, borough police said, Quesberry and the college youth met in Quesberry's room at the hospital and after talking parted friends. Quesberry told police he preferred to make no charges. Police asked him to speak to his parents and family before reaching a final decision.

ing a train of freight to York, told him the car was seen only about 30 feet from the crossing, at a point when the engine was about 100 feet from the crossing. An embankment prevents a view of the crossing at any greater distance by the railroad men. The engineer braked and Tipton said friction had melted metal on the tracks the length of the crossing. The engine came to a halt about 300 feet after the car was first seen.

The locomotive struck the auto broadside at the driver's seat, and pushed the car off the track, ripping off the side of the car. The impact damaged the crotch of the diesel and the step up to the cab of the engine, Tipton said.

SAYS SIX DEAD NEEDLESSLY IN PHILA. BLAZES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What causes fires?

"Human behavior, bad habits," says Fire Chief George Hink. "Careless smoking is one of the most serious."

Hink's comments, made in an interview, came today in the wake of two fires which killed six persons—four of them children—and critically injured four others.

He said the six "died needlessly."

Not Complying With Law

Hink added that in one of the fires Sunday, in which five Negroes were killed, two children were left unattended on the second floor of the apartment house where the blaze was discovered in a clothes press.

The chief declared "that another important item was that in February our fire commissioner checked the apartment and noted it had not complied with the law requiring fire extinguishers and an automatic alarm system."

"If there had been one (alarm system) the people on the top floor would have been alerted," Hink added. "As you know most people die on the top floors because hot smoke and gases travel to the uppermost part of the building."

Investigating Cause

Three of the five victims died on the third floor.

Hink said the cause of the fire is under investigation.

Commenting on the second fire in which a five-year-old white girl died, Hink said:

"Here is where a mother fell asleep on the living room sofa with a lighted cigarette."

The mother, Mrs. Edward Tague, her husband, and two other Tague children were admitted to Temple University Hospital with body burns.

22 In Three Weeks

The deaths raised the number of fire fatalities in Philadelphia in the last three weeks to 22.

"In the last five weeks there have been several tragedies," Hink asserted. "Usually people stay up late Saturday night watching television. They become fatigued. Some are smoking and fall asleep in sofas and soft chairs."

"I've been fighting fires for 40 years and people still are doing the same crazy things."

What is the solution?

"To realize that fires like accidents don't happen only to the other person," Hink declared. "Be prepared. Practice fire safety."

Overloaded Circuits

"Did you ever have a fire drill at home? It's a very simple thing. And how many times do you see people overload their electrical circuits or allow rubbish to accumulate. One of the greatest causes of fire deaths is that some persons sleep with their bedroom doors open. If your doors are closed usually only a small amount of poisonous gas will spread in."

"If your door happens to be closed and you smell smoke and go to the door and feel it is hot, don't open it. You may die on the spot since the gas is likely to collapse the lungs. Instead open window and alert neighbors."

MASON-DIXON
CHANGES CAGE
PLAYOFF PLAN

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — First-round pairings for the Mason-Dixon Conference basketball tournament were changed here Sunday as the conference wound up a three-day spring meeting with an athletic directors' session.

Pairings for next year's tournament, which will be played March 24 either in Washington or Baltimore, were set up as follows:

In one bracket the No. 1 team in the conference's Northern division will play the No. 4 club from the Southern division and the No. 3 North club will meet the No. 2 Southern outfit.

In the opposite bracket it will be the top team from the South against the North's No. 4 representative and the No. 3 South team against the No. 2 North quint.

The arrangement differs from this year's pairings in that the first and second ranked teams from each division will be placed in opposite brackets instead of the same brackets. The directors felt it is desirable to have as much interdivision play as possible.

Dates were set for three of next season's championship events. The cross country championship will be decided at Bridgewater College November 19; the wrestling championship March 3-4, 1961, either in Washington or Baltimore, and the golf championship May 16, 1961, at Ingleside Country Club in Staunton with Bridgewater as host club.

More Football Sought

The athletic directors took favorable action on a recommendation of the conference football coaches and will try to interest the president of the various non-football schools in starting grid programs, possibly on an informal basis at first, then working into an intercollegiate program later.

Plane Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fifteen persons were killed during the weekend as private planes crashed from Maine to California.

Four persons from Allentown, Pa., died Sunday when a plane owned by a flying club crashed while the pilot was trying to make an emergency landing near Kingston, N.Y.

The victims were Ralph R. Peters, 63; Karl H. Schmidt, 33; Linda Schmidt, 16, and Oliver T. Rex, 37.

At Fullerton, Calif., Leon M. Boisseranc watched a light plane piloted by his son, Leon Jr., 29, suddenly plunge into a home and explode. The home was that of the flier's uncle, Emil Boisseranc. Emil, his wife, and three children hurried safely from the house, which was destroyed. Boisseranc Jr. was killed.

Crash In Snowstorm

John Oman III, 53, head of a big construction firm, crashed with an employee, Sam Lindsey, both of Nashville, Tenn., while attempting an instrument landing during a light snowstorm near Nashville. Both were killed. They were home-bound from flying Argentine Ambassador Emilio Donato del Carril to Muscle Shoals, Ala.

At Kankakee, Ill., a single-engine plane was wrecked during a snowstorm, killing Sidney E. McGinty, 51, of Glen Ellyn, Ill.

At Fort Worth, Tex., a student pilot, Mahmood Saud Barghouti, 26, from Jordan, was killed in a crash while trying to land at Russell Field, where he was enrolled in a flying school.

Crash On Ranch

A pilot who telephoned friends and said he would fly over their ranch home died Sunday with a woman companion when the plane crashed on the ranch near Fort Worth. Killed were J. R. Fleming, 40, Duncan, Okla., and Mrs. Mina Tillery, 35, also of Duncan. The crash occurred near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Davidson.

Three men on their way Saturday to Moosehead Lake, Maine, for ice-fishing crashed in a private plane. Their bodies and the wreckage were found on frozen Lily Bay Sunday. They were Virgil Chadbourn, 41, the pilot and his two passengers, Roy Davis, about 40, and Jake Hanson, 60, both of Greenville, Maine.

A 5-year-old boy was killed Sunday as a single-engine plane crashed in a field near Annapolis, Md. Jack Julius Hlista of Randallstown, near Baltimore, died of a crushed skull. Two adults in the plane, including the pilot, were seriously injured.

Out Of The Past

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The examination of the Pupils of the Gettysburg Female Seminary, in this place took place on Friday last — and was attended by a large assemblage. We are gratified to learn, not being present ourselves, that it passed off much to the satisfaction of the audience — the Young Ladies exhibiting clear and indisputable evidence of the talent in instruction of the estimable Lady at the head of the Institute.

The farm and mill property of Michael Hoke, near Emmitsburg, was sold a few days ago for $7,500. George Smith, of this county, is the purchaser.

At the East Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. H. G. Dill was continued for Gettysburg in connection with Rev. L. K. Sumwalt; York Springs, J. G. McKeenan; J. B. Akers; Emmitsburg, D. Herron.

Another Jail Delivery: On Thursday night last three prisoners made their escape from our prison by sawing off the bars of their cell window and making a hole through the outer wall. It appears as though the prisoners could take their leave at any time they feel disposed to do so. There is something wrong in the matter somewhere.

We learn there is in contemplation to organize a company of Cavalry in Hamilton. A meeting will be held in Fairfield for this purpose.

The Pennsylvania Canal will be opened for business about the 25th inst.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Fire at St. Joseph's Academy: On Friday last a disastrous fire destroyed two of the buildings at St. Joseph's Academy, a short distance south of Emmitsburg. The fire originated from a defective flue in the kitchen department of the dormitory and refectory. The sisters and school children were at dinner when they were alarmed by a message telephoned from Emmitsburg that the building was on fire. The roof was then in flames and the fire was seen in town.

The Emmitsburg fire department and citizens hurried out and battled all afternoon with the flames. The Mother Superior telegraphed to Frederick and Baltimore. One of the Frederick fire companies started at once by rail, but by the time they reached the Academy the fire was well under control, although the firemen kept playing on the burning buildings most of the night.

Fortunately the wind was blowing from the south-west, from the group of buildings around the main Academy and the fire was confined to two buildings on the north and east erected in 1874. Both were substantial structures, four stories, built of brick, one measuring 112 by 51 feet, the other 60 by 60 feet. Both were burnt to the ground. The loss is estimated at $50,000, partially covered by insurance.

Sgt. William D. Holtzworth is arranging for a lecture tour, with magic lantern and battlefield views prepared by W. H. Tipton, photographer, illustrating the battle of Gettysburg. Mr. Holtzworth is thoroughly posted on the various phases of the battle, the positions and monuments of troops and has made quite a reputation as a battlefield guide.

The Soldiers Monument: Harrisburg, March 23, 1885: I see, after many years of slumber, the Adams County Soldiers Monument scheme has been revised. Success to it. Better late than never, especially in view of the yearly increasing importance of Gettysburg as an American Mecca for all Patriots.

A company of Adams county men (I think it was Co. K of the 1st Reserves), which left home under the command of Hon. Edw. McPherson and afterwards commanded by the lamented Fin-

Today's Talk

THE CALL OF SPRING

More than any other season, I look forward to the early calls of springtime, George Gissing in his beautiful book, "The Private Papers of Henry Rycroft," speaks of his longing for "another springtime," and wondering if it might be his last to look upon. (How many of us have the same feeling about this treasured season of the year?)

There is a mellowness and a spiritual beauty in Gissing's "The Private Papers of Henry Rycroft" that are not soon forgotten. And the book not forgotten is the one that lives the longest, to a reader! Gissing lived his book.

The call of springtime touches something in us all. It is a celebration we like to share with others. There is something eternal about it, as there is to all beauty.

How inspiring is the run across my yard of the first robin! And that of the others that follow. Trouble, talk of war and fears fill the columns of our great newspapers — but the birds will keep up their singing just the same — and every song will be one of peace and good will! There is a saying in the Bible: "Let not your heart be troubled." That line, tucked away in the heart, has possibilities undreamed of!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Being Agreeable"

Just Folks

SPRING'S DRAWBACK

I love most everything of spring—
The smell of new-turned earth,
The sight of birds upon the wing
And blossoms come to birth.
The gentle skies of blue above,
And green and grassy woods,
The many charms of spring I love—
But not her brand of colds.

I love the gentle breeze that blows,
The tulips white and red,
The first green shoots upon the rose,
The crocus in its bed.
I love each leaf upon the tree
That splendidly unfolds;
Why must she always bring to me
One of her stubborn colds.

'Tis spring! Once more I sit and sneeze;
Once more my eyes are red,
And in my pipes there is a wheeze,
A rattle in my head;
And on my chest there lies a weight

That grim congestion molds;
I love the spring; but, oh, I hate
Her brand of stubborn colds.

Bailey and others, fought bravely at Round Top in the sight of their homes. There were no braver men in the glorious old Fifth Army Corps, that for four years held aloft unsullied the Maltese cross. I knew of one, S. W. Young, now of Panama, Iowa, who in entering the battle passed over the edge of his father's farm yet did not pause long enough to see his mother or sister.

Would it not be well, in this age of monuments, and indications on the most important battlefield of modern civilization, there should be some indication of the spot where these Adams county men fought for the Union amidst the familiar surroundings of their own loved homes?

"Winter still lingers in the lap of Spring," in fact, shows no disposition to get out of the way. Like February, March promises to furnish a phenomenal record for low temperature. Last week we had another cold wave, the mercury on Friday going down to 4 degrees. The day was very cold throughout, the mercury at no time rising above 15 to 19 degrees and going back during the night to the neighborhood of zero.

OHIO STATE IS NCAA CHAMP; UPSET BEARS

By HARRY JUPITER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes—young, talented and confident—are the 1960 collegiate basketball champions.

The underdog Ohioans, playing before a loudly partisan California crowd, upset Cal's defending champions 75-55 Saturday night in the finals of this year's NCAA tournament.

Cal's Golden Bears fought until the final buzzer but they were not in Ohio's class. It appeared that the Bears had given their best effort the previous night in knocking off Cincinnati in a semifinal that matched the two top teams in The Associated Press national poll.

Third In Poll
Ohio State, rated third in the poll, Saturday night looked like the finest team in collegiate circles since the two-time national championship club of the University of San Francisco, a team that ran off 60 straight victories.

But most startling about the new champions is their youth and poise.

Four of the starting five will be back next year.

Returning are All America Jerry Lucas, voted most valuable player here as a sophomore, two other sophs who also received MVP votes, Mel Nowell and John Havlicek, and junior Larry Siegfried, the Buckeyes' top scorer a year ago — before Lucas came along.

BRADLEY MAY BE TOO GOOD FOR NIT IN '61

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Chances are the Bradley Braves, the name team of the National Invitation Basketball tournament for four years, won't be back next year to defend their championship.

The reason? They'll probably be too good!

The NIT has had the pleasure of Bradley's company since 1957 because, despite the Braves' outstanding teams, they weren't quite tough enough to win outright the Missouri Valley Conference title.

Won First In 1957

The Braves came here to win their first NIT championship in 1957 when St. Louis filled the Missouri Valley's commitment in the NCAA tournament. The last three years the Braves were available because a fellow named Oscar Robertson made Cincinnati unstopable in the Missouri Valley race.

But now Oscar is through at Cincinnati and with such aces as sophomores Chet (Orange Juice) Walker and Mack Herndon, and Junior Al Saunders returning, it seems unlikely Coach Chuck Orsborn can help having a conference winner. Only backcourt aces Mike Owens and Dan Smith are lost from the 1959-60 Bradley team that won its second NIT title in four years Saturday afternoon with a whirlwind rally that crushed Providence, 8-72. And what the likes of Herndon, Walker, and Saunders plus sophs like Ed Wodka, Mickey Tieman, and Lee Edwards shed the Madison Square Garden crowds left every-one waging about the Bradley of next year.

PSU WINS AT GYMNASTICS

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)

—Penn State is again the NCAA's gymnastics champion.

The heavily favored Nittany Lions scored 112½ points in the weekend tournament here. Runner-up Southern California had 65½ and Illinois was third with 59 points. It was the second title in a row for State and its sixth over the years.

Jay Werner, who won the all-around championship Friday night tied with Army's John Aaronson in defending his swinging rings title. Werner scored in seven other events for a total of 47½ points.

Art Shurlock of California, the runner-up in the all-round competition, had 30 points. But he lost out to California's Jim Fairchild in defending the side horse title he won a year ago.

The only other defending titlist, Stan Parsish of Michigan State, repeated as horizontal bars champion.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Highways Secretary Park Martin said today he will have to study a suggestion that school buses pull off highways to load or discharge pupils.

Dr. Elwood A. Geiges, safety committee chairman for the Pennsylvania Motor Federation-AAA, suggested Saturday that special pull-off areas be provided along highways for the buses' use.

He said it was a safety hazard for buses to stop in a traffic lane.

The award, named in honor of the 1940 Republican presidential nominee, is for research in liberal arts. It is presented by the Willkie Foundation.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)

—George Bayer was trying not to think about last year as he teed off today for the third round of the St. Petersburg Open Golf tournament.

In the same tournament in 1959 the huge ex-football player from Glencoe, Ill., shot 66-69—135 for his first two rounds, and was leading the field at that point. Then he soared to a big 77, and although he came back with a 70 for his final round he finished seven strokes back of Cary Middlecoff, the winner with 275.

In the current tournament Bayer also has 66-69—135 for his first two rounds, and a four-stroke lead, so he might be expected to start his third round with some apprehension.

honors. The 178-pounder will meet Gary Jawish, a 22-year-old, 232-pounder from Washington, D. C., who will represent New York-East.

There will be 16 bouts in all, eight matching the champions. The other eight fights will be between alternates picked late this afternoon. Each fight will count one point.

Another Standout

Lucius Clay, 18-year-old Louisville high schooler, and Chicago's heavyweight king, is another fine possibility for the Olympic team. Clay captured the intercity light heavyweight crown in 1959 but this time is aiming for heavyweight.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) —

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)

—Roger Maris, a blond kid with a quick grin and a ready bar, has played fewer than a dozen games in left field. And none was at Yankee Stadium, where haze, sun and a fadeaway fence make up what may be the most treacherous left field in the majors.

But left field is where the New York Yankees have him planted.

Maris, 25, heretofore has been a hitter who played right or center through four years in the minors and three with Cleveland and Kansas City. He came to the Yankees, along with Kent Hadley and Joe DeMaestri, from Kansas City in a winter swap for Don Larsen, Marv Throneberry, Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern — who had his black day in the left field sun of Yankee Stadium in the 1958 World Series.

Has Army Trouble

"I've played maybe 10 games in left field," Maris admitted, "and that was with Cleveland a couple of years ago."

Still, Maris hasn't had too much trouble playing left in the exhibition games.

"Most of that's luck," he said, "but at least I'm getting half a notion of where to stand out there."

"It's a tricky field in the Stadium, and you can get hurt with the low walls."

The well built-left-handed hitter, who has hit in all eight exhibition games and leads the Yankees with a .375 average, has a weak arm at the moment and has been cautioned to take it easy throwing the ball.

DETROIT (AP) — Head coach George Wilson has appointed Don Shula to coach defensive backs for the Detroit Lions.

Shula played pro football for seven years, playing with the Cleveland Browns, Baltimore and the Washington Redskins.

He also has served as an assistant coach at Virginia and last year was on the staff at Kentucky.

SENATORS EYE ROOKIES WITH NOT MUCH HOPE

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Cookie Lavagetto, a man who has known deep trouble, thinks he can see some sunlight ahead for the Washington Senators. Despite the home run boom of 1959, it takes a real optimist to look past an 18-game losing streak and three straight years in the cellar.

The Senators did show marked improvement last year, winning the mid-summer headlines with home run clusters by Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison, Jim Lemon and Roy Sievers. They had the shutout king of the American League in Camillo Pascual who also led the pitchers with 17 complete games.

Second In Homers

At the end of the year the club was second to Cleveland with 163 home runs but last in club batting average at .237. All the power was right handed and leaky defense was guilty of the most errors in the league.

Washington was rumored to be involved in all sorts of deals through the winter. None of them were made, so Lavagetto must go ahead with what he has, plus some promising youngsters.

Lavagetto said he was hoping to make a starter out of Jim Kaat, a young left hander who was leading the league in strikeouts when he was called up from Chattanooga.

Pitching Is Shoddy

The pitching, back of Pascual (17-10) and Ramos (13-19) was shoddy last year. That is why Kaat, a 6-4, 21-year-old rookie, has a good shot. For relief, Lavagetto has Dick Hyde (2-5), Chuck Stobbs (1-8) and probably Truman Clevenger (8-3).

Lavagetto's infield plans are a bit indefinite, he admits. It all depends on the ability of Billy Conso (213) to do the job at short. And Rendo Bertoia (257) at second. Killebrew (.242) whose 42 homers tied Cleveland's Rocky Colavito for the league lead, is the third baseman. Sievers (.242) will be on first. There also is a supremely confident Cuba rookie who thinks he is a better shortstop than Luis Aparicio — Zolo Versalles (.153).

Lemon (.279) and Allison (.261), the rookie of the year in 1959 with 30 homers, are set in left and center fields. The rightfielder could be rookie Dan Dobbek who hit 23 homers and batted in 73 runs while hitting .265 at Chattanooga.

The catching is weak. Even Clyde McCullough, a veteran spring training coach, is under serious consideration.

"Last spring I had only three men who played 100 games for me," said Lavagetto. "This year I have five. That shows progress. If the kid pitchers come through, we might surprise a few of them."

PROVIDENCE NEAR PLAYOFF

By The Associated Press
A third place finish and Calder Cup playoff berth in the American Hockey League came closer to reality today for the Providence Reds as they continued a March surge that has brought six victories in eight games.

The Reds, with 74 points and one ahead of fourth-place Cleveland, capped a big weekend Sunday night by beating the champion Springfield Indians 3-1. The Reds belted the Indians 6-1 on Saturday night but it didn't keep Springfield from clinching the Tedy Oke trophy, symbolic of league leadership.

Cleveland, with four games to play and one more than the Reds, stayed in contention for a cup berth by beating Hershey 5-2. The Barons, who won three straight, defeated Buffalo 6-1 Saturday night.

The Bisons' hopes grew a little dimmer after a 5-3 loss Sunday night to last-place Quebec. The Bisons are in fifth place, five points behind the Barons and have four games to play.

In the only other weekend game Hershey defeated Rochester 4-2 Saturday night.

Score Does Well On Sunday Trial

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Herb Score, whose spring training has been held up by an ear infection, tested his million-dollar left arm against the Chicago Cubs "B" team Sunday and did pretty well for an initial effort.

"My arm felt good," the Cleveland Indians' man hope for a 1960 pennant said afterward. "The thing I liked best was that my fast ball was moving. I felt more like a pitcher out there than I have for a long time."

In three innings, Score struck out six, walked two and yielded a double to Harry Bright.

Seven Score and Six Years Ago

On March 21, 1814, Gettysburg's first bank was established to create a new concept in banking for the residents of this thriving community. Gettysburg College was yet to become a reality; the War between the States was inconceivable.

This stalwart institution has survived the ravages of many wars, and it has seen the town and the county grow far beyond ordinary vision. The Gettysburg National Bank has progressed because of extraordinary vision—a vision which foretold the great strides the community would achieve in 146 years.

Banks reflect the solidity of a community because good bankers encourage their patrons to prepare for the future. The Gettysburg National has its finger on the pulse of opportunity and progress and passes this knowledge along to its patrons. It helps its patrons to invest in wise opportunities and advises them against unwise ones.

Knowing How, When To Press Necessary For Home Pressing, Says Mrs. Tunison

When and how to press need to be known for professional results in home sewing. The "when" is during all stages of garment construction. The "how" depends on the pressing equipment.

Some pieces of pressing equipment are basic. The iron may be a steam or dry one, and a temperature control on the dry iron is helpful. A press cloth is used for pressing with a dry iron and may be needed with a steam iron. The press cloth should be lintless and thoroughly washed to remove any sizing. Two thicknesses of cheesecloth make a good press cloth for cotton. Muslin and light canvas work well with heavier fabrics. A wool press cloth is excellent for pressing woens. It holds moisture and eliminates shine.

The ironing board should be firm and well-padded with a clean, removable cover. A sleeveboard is needed for pressing sleeves and other small areas. A tailor's ham is useful in pressing curved seams, darts, and sleeve caps. It is made of sawdust loosely packed into unbleached muslin. A tailor's mitt is small and not so suitable for pressing as a tailor's ham but may be substituted for it.

Pressing isn't ironing. In pressing use a light, patting touch — don't push the iron. When pressing wool, hold the iron above the fabric and let the steam do the work — never touch the iron to the fabric.

Offer Course In Preserving Food
Although wintry blasts are still in the air, chances are the home gardener is making plans for the growing season. At the same time, the homemaker can be making her plans for preserving products from the garden.

By preserving vegetables and fruits in different ways, variety and interest are added to family meals. Correspondence Course 1, "Canning and Food Preservation," provides information on the different methods of preserving garden products. The course is offered by the Pennsylvania State University and consists of five lessons.

Lessons explain methods of canning and freezing foods, making jellies and pickles (including old-fashioned recipes), and gives information on food nutrients.

Course 81 may be obtained by sending a check or money order for $1.25 to Correspondence Courses, 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Pa. Checks should be made payable to the Pennsylvania State University.

A free bulletin describing 70 other courses is available from the county extension office, court-house.

Legumes Need Inoculation
If you grow legumes make sure that they are properly inoculated. Fifty cents worth of legume seed inoculant, if used properly, can obtain as much as $60 to $80 worth of nitrogen from the air through the nodules which form on the roots.

The following factors should be kept in mind in securing effective inoculation:

1. Use high quality, fresh inoculant made for the particular legume you wish to inoculate. Some mixed inoculants are available which are effective on both alfalfa and clover.
2. Keep inoculant in cool storage until used.
3. Make sure all the seeds are covered with the inoculant.
4. Protect inoculated seeds from sunshine and hot drying winds and cover the seed in the fields.
5. When inoculating chemically treated seeds apply the inoculant just before planting. Use extra inoculant.
6. If pre-inoculated seed (nuculated, vicoat, etc.) is used, store in a cool place until planting. When not planted before the expiration date shown on the tag, re-inoculate with fresh, viable inoculant.

Creep Feed Pigs For More Profit
The heavier pigs at weaning time reach market first. To get more weight on weaning pigs, feed creep feeds. Creep feeds have proved their value many times in research and on farm conditions.

Suckling pigs from two weeks of age to weaning make very efficient use of feeds. In some cases they may put on a pound of gain with as little as two pounds of feed. Money spent buying creep feeds is well invested when it returns larger, thriftier pigs at weaning time, all set to travel the "short road to market."

A good time to start pigs on creep feed is when they are seven to 10 days of age. Put a handful of pre-starter feed containing 20 to 22 per cent protein in a low, flat pan in the pigs' creep, or bedded area. Be sure to put this feed the first two or three days, but most important: they will start eating.

Fresh, Clean Water
Fresh clean water is just as necessary as feed for pigs to get a good start. Don't expect them to get enough liquid from the sow's feed pan or the sow's milk: provide a separate source of water for the pigs.

When the pigs have consumed about three pounds of pre-starter, start adding some pig-starter feed (18 to 20 per cent protein) to the pre-starter. By the time each pig has eaten five pounds of feed they should be getting only starter feeds. Keep them on the pig starter until they have eaten about 20 pounds of this feed. If they are doing well and weigh about 25 pounds, start switching them to a pig grower (16 to 18 per cent protein).

Farmers following a program of this type, or a similar one recommended by their feed dealers, have no trouble weaning pigs weighing 40 to 45 pounds at eight weeks of age.

Right Equipment
Makes Dairying Chores Easier
This morning 40,000 Pennsylvania dairymen milked one million cows. The staggering total of nine million pounds of milk was removed from the cows and conveyed by hand to the milk house.

Too few dairymen have invested in some of the new milk conveying equipment, but there are three different types of machinery to do this chore:

Simplest, but least desirable, is the dumping or pumping station

CATHOLIC BISHOP DIES SUDDENLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bishop Howard J. Carroll, head of the Altoona-Johnstown Roman Catholic Diocese, died early today at a hospital here. He was 57.

The diocese—founded in 1901—embraces Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Center, Clinton, Fulton, Huntingdon, and Somerset counties.

Bishop Carroll was installed head of the 150, 670 Catholics in the eight-county area on Jan. 23, 1958, succeeding the late Bishop Richard T. Guilfoyle.

Bishop Carroll, who had been carrying a heavy load of work including supervision of the completion of the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament in Altoona, came to Washington last Wednesday to consult with a long-time friend and physician. He was advised to enter Providence Hospital for medical tests. His condition, not thought serious, worsened on Friday and Saturday and he died early today.

Born In Pittsburgh
Bishop Carroll was born in Pittsburgh Aug. 3, 1902, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. and Margaret Carroll. His two brothers also became priests. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Walter S. Carroll died in 1950. The other brother is the Rt. Rev. Coleman Carroll, bishop of Miami, Fla.

The late bishop attended Holy Rosary grade school in Pittsburgh and Duquesne and St. Vincent College. He was ordained on April 2, 1927 at Fribourg, Switzerland.

Bishop Carroll returned to the United States and served as curate of Sacred Heart parish in Pittsburgh from 1928-38. He also was an instructor at Mt. Mercy College in Pittsburgh for eight years. He was named a monsignor in 1945.

and other milk conveying equipment. Disadvantage of these devices is that the dairymen must convey the milk from the cow to the conveyor.

The second type of milk conveying equipment is a single line system. This pipe line is placed six feet high over the middle of the cow walk-way or litter alley. In the barn at the end of the line is a wash collection unit so the pipe line can be cleaned.

Third and best of these conveyors is an around-the-barn pipe line.

Each of these units has a place on modern dairy farms.

Big Plane Loses Door In Flight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After a big jet airliner made a perfect landing, mechanics discovered that it wasn't quite all here.

A 10-by-3 foot aluminum door was missing. The door covered the plane's air-conditioning compartment.

Airline officials said a resident near Idlewild International Airport at New York — where the Trans World Airlines flight originated Sunday — found the door in his backyard. John E. Gleason said it bounced off his roof just after the plane went overhead.

FRANCE TRYING TO PROTECT "K" ON VISIT

PARIS (AP) — France is arranging an unprecedented security screen to insure that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is hit by nothing heavier than confetti during his visit starting Wednesday.

Only Yugoslav President Tito's visit two years ago prompted security measures approaching those being prepared to protect the Soviet leader.

Mindful of Khrushchev's complaints that he was kept away from the people during his U. S. tour, the French are trying to be discreet. But the curtain will be there every time Khrushchev steps out in public.

Rearranged Plans
Postponement of the visit and then the shortening of the trip forced complete rearrangement of plans.

The postponement also meant an extension of forced vacations being given some 800 political refugees, mostly from Iron Curtain countries.

These were picked up two weeks ago and sent to Corsica and other islands.

1,800-Mile Trip
The arrangements for Khrushchev are complicated by his 1,800-mile trip through France. Wherever he travels by train, the tracks will be guarded hours in advance and a policeman posted every half mile. A security train will precede Khrushchev's. Arrangements were tightened after a Paris-Marseille train was derailed recently, apparently by sabotage.

In Paris police and plainclothesmen will line Khrushchev's routes through the city, and firemen will be placed on the roofs.

Wherever Khrushchev travels by car, he will be accompanied by 120 motorcycle policemen.

FRANK LANE IS IN HOT WATER OVER WHITE

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Foxy Frank Lane's at it again with his volatile temper reacting immediately to the hassle that has broken out over the Sammy White trade and threatens to shake the Indian chief's reputation as baseball's master manipulator.

Lane, a clever appraiser of player talent, already has taken a verbal scolding for the off-season deals that deprived Cleveland of 19-game winner Cal McLish and 300-hitting Minnie Minoso.

Now Lane may find himself checkedmate over his latest transaction in an attempt to trade Cleveland into a pennant with Commissioner Ford Frick a likely candidate to settle the stalemate.

Off Or On?

Lane swapped catcher Russ Nixon and utility man Jim Marshall for White, an outstanding receiver with the Boston Red Sox.

White, however, pulled Lane up short. He retired.

"The deal's off," said Lane as surely Sunday.

"Lane hasn't got a foot to stand on," countered Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris, emphasizing that he considers the trade closed.

Wants Nixon Back
"I'm returning Marshall and want Nixon back," Lane said. "That's not all Lane may want back. The way Minoso's changing Chicago's hitless wonders, Lane probably is having second thoughts about the trade that sent the Cuban to the American League champion White Sox."

Minoso, a 302 hit last season at Cleveland, stroked a double and four singles Sunday as the Sox blasted 21 hits and won their seventh exhibition in eight games with a 12-2 thumping of Baltimore.

Walloped By Giants
Lane's Indians were walloped 20-5 by the San Francisco Giants, who rapped 21 hits including three homers by Willie Kirkland to bring their record to 6-2, best among National League clubs.

In other games, New York belted Cincinnati 13-5, Detroit beat Milwaukee 9-7, St. Louis edged Philadelphia 4-3, Los Angeles defeated Washington 7-5, Pittsburgh topped Kansas City 6-3, and Chicago's Cubs nipped Boston 3-2.

Pilot Dies; Plane Hits Uncle's House

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — Leon M. Boisserane watched from the yard of his home as his son, Leon Jr., 29, circled overhead in his light plane.

Suddenly the plane's engine quit. It spiraled, plunged into a home, and exploded.

The home was that of Emil Boisserane—the flier's uncle. He hurried his wife and three children from the burning home and tried unsuccessfully to save his nephew.

Boisserane Jr. died in the wreckage. The home was destroyed. The uncle's hands and face were badly burned.

YOUTH AVERTS PANIC AT FIRE

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa. (AP) — A tenth grade pupil has been credited with helping avert panic during a fire which destroyed a theater, forcing 200 patrons to flee.

Leo McCawley, manager of the Town Theater, said the blaze had started Sunday night with an explosion of some sort in a store-room behind the theater's projection room. It spread to a church, a hotel and a supermarket.

No injuries were reported. McCawley said Wayne McGraw, a pupil at Susquehanna Consolidated School, stood at the door of the theater until all of the patrons were out. He cautioned them to walk and not run to the exit, McCawley said.

Wind carried burning embers over a wide area during the height of the fire and a number of nearby homes had to be evacuated.

Damaged by the blaze were the Methodist Church and the Lorraine Hotel. An ACME supermarket was damaged by heavy smoke.

Police Chief Willard G. Collier estimated the loss would total at least $150,000.

NEW SNOWFALL USHERS SPRING

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter — like weather continued its grip on Pennsylvania today as spring entered its second day.

A snow storm ushered in spring Sunday, dumping from one to four inches of snow in western Pennsylvania. Four inches were recorded in Somerset County.

An inch of snow was reported in some parts of central Pennsylvania while the eastern area had only snow flurries.

Many roads were left slippery and hazardous. In Pittsburgh two multiple collisions involved 20 cars on Bigelow Blvd. Sunday, but no one was hurt. Most roadways were cindered.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts snow flurries for western Pennsylvania today. The eastern half expected to have fair skies.

IT'S THE "Something More" THAT MAKES BLUE CROSS BETTER!

Your Hospital Bills Are Our Problem...

Established 21 years ago, Capital Hospital Service has grown tremendously fast because it offers real help in meeting the impact of costly hospital bills.

Great growth has been a challenge. It is a challenge to the Plan to provide adequate hospitalization benefits for better than 700,000 subscribers in the central Pennsylvania area. No other similar program has extended its coverage so broadly.

Great growth is also an answer to a problem. For in spreading risks over nearly three-quarters of a million persons, costs have been held to a point where benefits are within the reach of everyone. And they are kept within reach, too, because Blue Cross has no dollars and cents policy. "Service" benefits cover all or most of members' hospital bills.

As time goes on, Blue Cross will continue to bring the most effective coverage possible to the most people. As always, it's the "Something More" That Makes Blue Cross Better.

MAY PROPOSE DISARMAMENT AT MAY TALKS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may propose to its allies and the Soviet Union that disarmament be given top priority in negotiations at the May 16 summit conference in Paris.

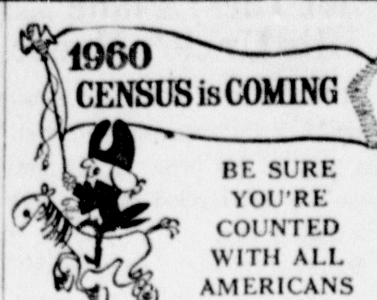

Officials considering this possibility believe the result might be to take some of the heat off the dispute with the Soviet Union over West Berlin and to concentrate attention on the one subject which offers the possibility of important agreement.

A priority for disarmament was discussed by top U.S. leaders with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during his visit last week.

It was further pointed up by the new Soviet conditional acceptance of a U.S. proposal for a limited rather than total treaty ban on test explosions of nuclear weapons.

The Soviets made their offer Saturday. U.S. officials are skeptical about their purpose but note they now have narrowed the gap between their own and the Western position on a nuclear test treaty.

If they are acting in good faith, officials said, it might be possible to work out most of the problems involved in agreement on a treaty in time for final decisions at the summit.

If the Soviets are not acting in good faith — if they are simply maneuvering for immediate advantage by splitting the United States and Britain—U.S. leaders hope to find this out well in advance of the summit.

Before a U.S. stand can be taken, Eisenhower may have to decide among other things whether the nation's security makes it vital to resume underground testing of nuclear weapons next fall. Some atomic and military officials say such tests are needed. The possibility of an East-West agreement on a ban of the testing of nuclear weapons is now the brightest among disarmament issues, but at the moment it is far from a probability.

HELEN KELLER FRIEND DIES

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Polly Thomson, companion of Helen Keller, died in Bridgeport Hospital Sunday night after a long illness.

Miss Thomson, 75, entered the hospital in December.
She lived with Miss Keller at the famous blind author's home in Easton, Conn.

She was born Mary Agnes Thomson in Glasgow, Scotland, but became generally known as Polly.

In 1913 she came to the United States to visit an uncle in Swampscott, Mass. In October of the following year, she was brought to the attention of Anne Sullivan Macy, teacher of Helen Keller.

Were Inseparable
Mrs. Macy hired Miss Thomson at their first meeting and a few months later set out with both Miss Keller and Miss Thomson on a tour.

In 1921, in Toronto, Can., when Mrs. Macy became ill, Miss Thomson made her first appearance on the lecture platform with Miss Keller. Miss Thomson did so well that, afterward, it was she rather than Mrs. Macy who stood beside Miss Keller and interpreted the latter's broken speech to the audience.

After Mrs. Macy died in 1936, Miss Thomson and Miss Keller became inseparable.

SEEK CAUSE OF SHIP COLLISION IN CHESAPEAKE

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Navy today sought the reason for a baffling, clear-night collision in which a Swedish freighter rammed a destroyer escort and almost tore it in two.

Two reservist crewmen of the USS Darby died and another was seriously injured when the prow of the SS Soya-Atlantic knifed into the naval vessel Saturday at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay.

The weather was clear and the captain of the Darby reportedly was on the bridge at the time.

Lawyers for the Soya-Atlantic, which had been outbound for Venezuela, said the merchant ship came at the Darby from the starboard side, was showing her port light, and that the Darby's task was "to keep out of the way."

The Navy, however, detained the slightly damaged freighter until it can complete an inquiry by a special board that began after the Darby was towed into drydock before dawn Sunday.

Aboard the destroyer escort as she returned from a 16-day training cruise with 120-odd reservists were Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), Assistant Navy Secretary Richard Jackson, and the commander of naval reserves, Rear Adm. Robert T. S. Keith.

The Soya-Atlantic, a 16-266-ton tanker and ore carrier, was empty except for 10,000 tons of water ballast in her oil tanks.

Nothing provides a better storing place for sweaters during the summer months than a large size tin lard can. Enamel outside to match the color scheme of room in which it will be placed and paste a miniature sweater on the center of the front, one that has been cut from felt. Be sure that sweaters are absolutely clean and moth proofed then fold them neatly in the can. Place the lid on tightly and place the can in bedroom, closet or basement.

NOTED AUTHOR ASPHYXIATED

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Best-selling author Tom T. Chamales, 35, due to appear in court today to answer charges that he beat his wife, singer Helen O'Connell, died Sunday in a violent end to a violent life.

He died in his smoke-filled apartment despite a desperate effort to find his way to safety.

Firemen said he was asphyxiated while trying to escape. Smudged hand-prints on the wall showed here he had sought to feel his way to a door or window.

Miss O'Connell was in a state of shock after she was told the news.

She asked a friend: "How shall I ever tell little Maria?"

Helen Maria, is the couple's 18-month-old daughter.

During their stormy three-year marriage, police were called to their home five times.

Chamales, first wife, Constance, charged in her 1957 divorce that he "cared more for drinks than for his family."

He leaves two sons, Thomas and Gerald, by his first marriage.

HEALTH CARE BATTLE WILL OPEN IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A party-splitting battle, with organized labor taking an active hand, starts in the House this week over proposals to add government-paid health care to social security coverage.

After a week of preliminary discussions, the House Ways and Means Committee gets down to cases Wednesday when it receives administration recommendations for social security law revision from Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

There were weekend indications these may include some form of government payments for health care of older persons.

Cross Party Lines
Many influential Republicans as well as conservative Democrats in the House have opposed a plan advocated by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.). This plan is backed by labor union forces headed by President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers, an AFL-CIO vice president.

Strong conservative opposition could be expected also to any administration-backed health plan, and the American Medical Assn. is actively fighting any such proposal.

On the other side are election-year political pressures for broadening social security benefits.

Means More Taxes
Forand said today he will try to by-pass House leaders and the Ways and Means Committee if necessary to bring his government old age hospitalization bill directly to the floor.

Forand's bill would provide up to 120 days a year of government-paid hospital and nursing home care for old-age social security pensioners. It would be financed by an additional 1/2 per cent social security payroll tax.

President Eisenhower told a news conference last month the administration was considering an additional increase in the social security tax to "make greater provision for the care of the aged."

This was amplified by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty to mean health care.

The state motto of Michigan is: "If you seek a pleasant peninsula, look above you."

CBS PLAY ON SUNDAY NIGHT WINS PRAISE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — As other television series move with apparent increasing fatigue towards the end of the season, producer David Susskind seems to be hitting his stride with an assortment of sturdy, tried - and - true movie adaptations.

Sunday night's CBS play, for instance, was 90 minutes of thoroughly enjoyable television drama. It was "The Valley of Decision," based on Marcia Davenport's novel and—15 years ago—a film.

Good Story, Acting

It was a good, romantic cinderella story—the steelworkers' honest daughter in love with the hard-working son of the rich mill owner. It was set 60 years ago in Pittsburgh and there was some talk of unions and strike, but only to push the plot along.

All the players were excellent. Nancy Wickwire played the young Irish maid in the mill owner's "castle on the hill." Lloyd Bridges was attractive and properly sincere as the young man who wanted to marry her.

American Heritage Show
Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. was the subject of NBC's American Heritage show Sunday night, "Autocrat and Son."

Sir Cedric Hardwicke played the senior Holmes, the autocrat of the breakfast table, and turned him into an unattractive, vain and pretentious fellow. Sir Cedric's unfortunate habit of swallowing his words rendered some of his lines

Strawberry That Climbs

Sonjana, the Strawberry That Climbs, successful in Europe, is now available here. Both ornamental and bearing fine, tasty berries, it can be trained to grow in many ways. It is everbearing, with the mother plant in the ground and the rosettes on the vines above it producing berries all season—a unique feature of Sonjana. It will grow 6 feet tall.

WEST GROVE, Pa. — Something new and fascinating is looming over the horizon for America's gardeners this spring. The climbing strawberry, a plant so unusual that it will be used as an ornamental as well as for eating. Already the sensation of Europe where it was developed by Reinhold Hummel, a West German nurseryman, the new plant seems destined to win American approval. It has many unique features, but the fact that it sends out 6 to 8 foot runners and bears berries from ground level to eye level puts real meaning into the phrase "conversation piece" as it applies to garden plants. Equally interesting to the home gardener will be the climbing strawberry's ability to lend itself to the making of artistic or ornamental garden designs. When this plant was first introduced to the public at the Horticultural Show in Stuttgart, Germany, people were amazed to see that Hummel had trained his climbing strawberry in the shape of wreaths, and in festoons which covered an archway.

Called Sonjana (Son-yah-na) after Hummel's daughter, Sonja, the climbing strawberry which is patented in this country, is being introduced by William Penn Nursery Company, West Grove, Pa., a subsidiary of the Conrad-Pyle Company, for planting this spring. Although, Sonjana was tested in various parts of the country last spring, this year will be the first in which climbing strawberry will be available in quantity.

SPEED LIMITS FOR ELECTRA AFTER CRASH

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has set flight speed limits on Electra turbo-prop airliners pending further investigation of last Thursday's Indiana air tragedy. Sixty-three persons died when an Electra disintegrated in flight.

The Federal Aviation Agency announced the limits Sunday night in advance of a meeting it scheduled here Tuesday with representatives of the Civil Aeronautics Board, operators of Electra planes and makers of the planes and their power plants.

FAA Administrator E. R. Quessada said the planes should be operated at not more than about 316 miles per hour at altitudes up to 15,000 feet. Slower speeds were set on a sliding scale at higher altitudes.

The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. which makes the Electras said their normal cruising speed is 400 miles per hour. A Lockheed spokesman said 136 of the planes have been delivered to airlines. The FAA said seven airlines use Electras.

Thursday's accident was the third involving a four-engine Electra. One operated by American Airlines plunged into New York's East River on Feb. 3, 1959, with a loss of 65 lives. Another Electra of Braniff Airways crashed last Sept. 29 near Buffalo, Tex., with a loss of 34 lives.

PARIS (AP)—Police seized today's edition of the Communist newspaper L'Humanite which charged that Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor, an aide to President Eisenhower, has filed a secret report on the French army.

The paper said the report maintained that certain officers in the army were transforming it into "sort of a machine for a coup d'etat."

News stand copies of the paper were seized under a French law which covers "attacks against the internal security of the state."

He is a past president of the Chambersburg district of the EUB Ministerium.

During his ministry at the local Evangelical United Brethren Church, the congregation constructed a Christian education building at a cost of more than $51,000, the church sanctuary and parsonage were remodeled and repaired, an active Youth Fellowship was developed and a Youth Choir and Carol Choir were formed. Per member giving increased from $36 per year to $75.55 per year. Average attendance at Sunday morning worship by the 211 members of the church increased to 45 per cent.

Chou En-lai To Visit New Delhi

NEW DELHI (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China will arrive in New Delhi April 19 for talks with Prime Minister Nehru on the border dispute between India and Red China. Nehru told the lower house of Parliament Chou would remain in New Delhi until April 25. Nehru had suggested April 20 as a suitable date to begin the talks on the 51,000 square miles of disputed territory in the Himalayas.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

REGINA LEININGER INDIAN CAPTIVE

The story of the Penn's Creek massacre, the first French and Indian atrocity after the defeat of General Edward Braddock on July 9, 1755, which was begun in this column last week, is continued at this time.

After Barbara Leininger and Marie LeRoy who were taken captive by the French and Indians in the above-named tragedy, escaped from their captors the girls went to Philadelphia and gave an account of their experiences to the Provincial Council. Excerpts from this were given last week and additional data follows:

"Two of the Indians now went to the house of Barbara Leininger, where they found her father, her brother, and her sister, Regina. Her mother had gone to the mill. They (the Indians) demanded rum, but there was none in the house. They then called for tobacco, which was given them. Having filled and smoked a pipe, they said: 'We are Allegheny Indians, and your enemies. You must all die!' Thereupon, they shot her (Barbara Leininger's) father, tomahawked her brother, who was twenty years of age, took Barbara and her sister, Regina, prisoners, and conveyed them into the forest for about a mile. They were soon joined by the other Indians, with Maria LeRoy and the little girl.

Show Six Scalps
"Not long after, several of the Indians led the prisoners to the top of a high hill, near the two plantations. Toward evening the rest of the savages returned with six fresh and bloody scalps, which they threw at the feet of the poor captives, saying that they had a good hunt that day.

"The next day we were taken about two miles further into the forest, while the most of the Indians went out again to kill and plunder. Toward evening they returned with nine scalps and five prisoners.

"On the third day the whole band came together and divided the spoils. In addition to large quantities of provisions, they had taken fourteen horses and ten prisoners, namely: One man, one woman, five girls and three boys. We two girls, as also two of the horses, fell to the share of an Indian named Galasko. We traveled with our new master for two days. He was tolerably kind, and allowed us to ride all the way, while he and the rest of the Indians walked."

It is ironical that the Penn Creek massacre took place almost on the line of the Albany Purchase of July, 1754, which so offended the Delaware and Shawnees. It is said that the line would have passed through the land of Jacques LeRoy (alias Jacob King). The Penn's Creek settlers had come to this place in 1754.

Germans Attacked First
Also, it is a strange anomaly in the record of Pennsylvania's relations with the Indians that the first blow struck by the Indians against the province fell upon the German settlers, who had always treated the Indians kindly. While others went to the Indians "with a musket in one hand and a bottle of rum in the other," the German settlers on the borderland did not cheat or take advantage of him in any way — with the possible exception of several isolated instances.

After her return from captivity Marie LeRoy, according to a fairly reliable source, married her cousin, Adam LeRoy, and lived in Lancaster County, Pa., until her death about 1800. In 1764 "Anna M. LeRoy," who at that time lived in Lancaster, made another affidavit regarding her capture and stay among the Indians.

Regina Leininger, the sister of Barbara Leininger, endured a somewhat longer captivity than her sister and Marie LeRoy. The Rev. Henry Muhlenberg, the son-in-law of Conrad Weiser, in his "Hallische Nachrichten" had quite a bit to say regarding Regina Leininger and her return from captivity among the Indians. Part of his account to the church fathers in the old country is given below as follows:

Home In Pennsylvania
"In February, 1765, a widow and her adult daughter from Rev. Kurtz' congregation came to (see me). This visit cheered me very much because of the peculiar circumstance of the case. The widow (the widow of Sebastian Leininger and the mother of Barbara and Regina) spoken of was a native of the old and renowned Imperial City, Reuthingen, in the Duchy of Wurtemberg, and her deceased husband (Sebastian Leininger) was born about 12 miles from Tuebingen. Before the war broke out in this country, they, with their small family of children, came hither and sought a home in the interior of Pennsylvania, about 100 miles from Philadelphia. The father was already advanced in years and too feeble to endure hard labor, but endeavored to instruct his children in the word of God because in the thinly settled country districts few schools are to be found, or none at all.

"In the summer of 1755 the English General Braddock with his army was defeated by the French and the hostile Indians in the wilderness because the English fought according to European methods and the Indians after the American. Immediately thereupon the hostile savages invaded the remote districts of Pennsylvania and butchered the scattered and defenseless inhabitants, consisting mostly of poor German families, dragging the children through the trackless wilderness into captivity in their huts and caves.

Indians Kill Two
"On October 16, 1755, this fate also befell the above named Christian family, together with a number of their brethren in the faith. The mother, the widow now still living, and one of the sons had gone to a mill a few miles distant to secure the grinding of some grain; the father, together with the eldest son and the two little daughters, remained at home. The savages suddenly fell upon them (the house), slaying the father and the son in their unusual barbarous manner. But they spared the two little girls, Barbara, 12 years of age, and Regina, going on 10, bound them and dragged them aside into the forest."

After the mother and son returned home from the mill and found everything burned and in ruins, they fled further inland (down) to Pastor Kurtz's congregation. The savages now having taken a good number of children, some of them set out with them (the children) toward their own country, not by the usually traveled paths, but through rough and unsettled sections so that they might not be taken from them.

The larger children were compelled to carry the smaller ones who were strapped to their backs.

Travelled Barefooted
"Now they pursued their tire-some journey barefooted, over bushes, stones, briars, undergrowth, through mire and swamps. Some children's feet were worn to the quick, laying bare the bones and tendons, so that they thought they must die because of the agony and the sufferings which they endured. But they (the children) were urged on mercilessly. In going through the bushes and thickets their clothing was torn into shreds and at last fell from them altogether. When they finally reached the country inhabited by the savages they (the children) were divided among them (the Indians), one being given to family here and another to another family several miles further on. It is the custom among these people if perchance parents are deprived of their children in war that they are replaced by captives taken by them."

The stories on the Penn's Creek massacre and its aftermath will be continued in this column next week.

WEEKEND'S DEATH TOLL IN PA. IS 13

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five persons died in one fire and a small girl perished in another blaze in Philadelphia, pushing Pennsylvania's weekend death toll to 13. Philadelphia Fire Chief George Hink said the fire victims "died needlessly."

Traffic accidents claimed six lives. Probably the most tragic occurred Sunday near Gettysburg when a diesel engine plowed into an auto at an unprotected railroad crossing. Paxton T. Riley and his wife, Mae, both 56, of Littlestown Adams County, were killed instantly.

A 70-year-old Meadville man, Hugh J. McBride, died of carbon monoxide fumes resulting from a soot-clogged flue in his home.

Five Negroes Die
Both fires occurred Sunday within four hours of each other.

In the first blaze, five Negroes from two families, were trapped on the second and third floors of the three-story brick apartment. The victims were Mrs. Lola Holman, 62; her daughter, Grace Brown, 32; and a granddaughter, Theresa Brown, 11, occupants of the third floor; and Bennie Lee Jones, 6, and his sister, Charmaine Jones, 3, who lived on the second floor.

Hink said the two children were left unattended on the second floor. He added the fire was discovered in a clothes press by one of them.

Lacked Alarm System
Hink declared that if there had been an automatic alarm system as required by city ordinance the victims on the top floor would have been alerted.

Five-year-old Evelyn Tague was the victim of the second fire. Her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tague, and two infant brothers suffered severe burns requiring hospitalization.

Hink said the mother fell asleep on the living room sofa with a lit cigarette.

Other Victims
The other victims: Warren — Leonard Rosenquist, 41, of Irving, in an automobile accident on Route 6 three miles west of Warren Saturday.

Philadelphia—Casimir J. Urbanek, 22, when his car struck a pole Saturday.

Bedford — Carl May, 22, of Schellsburg, Sunday when the car in which he was riding slammed into a utility pole on Route 96 near here.

Indiantown Gap—Pfc. Fred B. Kemp, 19, of Beaumont, Tex. struck by a car Sunday night at the military reservation.

KURUME, Japan (AP)—Fire today destroyed a mental hospital here killing 11 persons. Another was reported missing and presumed dead. The blaze broke out in an old wooden army barracks where severe mental cases were locked in cells with barred windows. It burned to the ground before firemen could rescue the patients.

NO SOLUTION TO SITDOWNS IN 8TH WEEK

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The eighth week of Negro anti-segregation demonstrations began in the South today with no sign of an immediate solution.

Authorities appeared more than ever determined to maintain law and order. Negroes — especially the younger ones — showed growing impatience with the slowness of court action in furthering equality.

Boycotting of stores operating segregated lunch counters was proposed by Negro groups in Savannah, Ga., and Lynchburg, Va.

Gov. Collins Gives Views
At Durham, N.C., the Rev. Douglas E. Moore announced lunch counter protest leaders will meet in Raleigh April 15-17.

In Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins said he thought it was "unfair and morally wrong" for a department store owner not to allow Negroes to patronize one part of the store while being permitted to trade in other sections.

The governor delivered a statewide radio and television address Sunday to try to calm racial tensions stemming from sitdowns in several Florida cities.

Not Trespassing
Collins conceded the department store owner has a legal right to single out one department "and say he does not want or will not allow Negroes to patronize that one department. But I still don't think he can square that right with moral, simple justice."

At Charlotte, N.C., Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel of the National Assn. For Advancement of Colored People, said he believed people taking part in sitdown demonstrations cannot rightfully be convicted of trespassing. He conceded it is uncertain whether a store owner can be required by law to serve Negroes as well as white persons.

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's government is promising Cuban workers a 400 per cent return on contributions to an ambitious industrialization program.

The cabinet, seeking new revenue sources, set up a checkoff system Friday for workers to make voluntary contributions of 4 per cent of their pay to the program.

The workers will receive "people's savings certificates" redeemable at 400 per cent of their original worth after 20 years. The certificates range in value from $25 to $200.

Christ Church Choir will rehearse Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The catechetical class will meet at the church on Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

"Striving For The Unattainable" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh at the worship service on Sunday morning in Redeemer's United Church of Christ. A women's chorus sang "Grant Me True Courage, Lord," Bach. The World Service envelopes were distributed, for "One Great Hour Of Sharing" and will be received next Sunday. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Edward Lee Crouse by his parents and sisters. A basket of flowers was placed by the Cub Scouts in remembrance of Edward.

The Men's Lenten breakfast will be served in the church social hall on Wednesday from 7:15 to 7:45 a.m., by the Women's Guild. Brief devotions will be led by Samuel H. Higinbotham. The Rev. Mr. Flinchbaugh will speak on another phase of the character of Jesus at the youth devotional on Wednesday from 8 to 8:20 a.m. A Lenten organ concert will be presented in the church on Thursday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m. by Jack Rodland, Juniata College.
